Sparkling Littlebrook Readied for Opening Of School Next Week

The boxes are still not unpacked, and the rooms far from set up, but everyone at Littlebrook School is pushing toward the same goal: the arrival of Princeton Regional elementary school students for the first time in five years.

Littlebrook, on Magnolia Lane, was closed in 1983 because of declining enrollment. It was the second elementary school to close for that reason; two years earlier, Johnson Park's doors were shut.

But an unexpected surge in elementary school enrollment — plus projections that push the numbers up even higher — led the School Board last winter to vote to reopen Littlebrook. If the trend continues, Johnson Park, too, may be reopened in a few years.

The school closings were painful for the community, with children having to change schools in the middle of their elementary years. Redistricting caused youngsters at Littlebrook and Johnson Park to be separated from friends, as well as from favorite teachers.

But reopening is a happier event. The school has been freshly painted and carpeted, and the playground equipment brightly painted. Staff members have been preparing the classrooms for the approximately 210 children, in grades kindergarten to four, who are expected on opening day.

Everything at Littlebrook — from pencils to computers, cafeteria trays to pianos — is new. When the school closed five years ago, all its furniture and supplies were distributed to the remaining elementary schools, Community Park and Riverside.

More than a half million dollars has been spent to refurbish and resupply Littlebrook. An additional $123,000 is budgeted for a

Merchants Angered by Prospect Of Fall Work on Nassau Sidewalk

Borough Council passed bond ordinances Monday night in the amount of $770,000 to finance the new Nassau Street sidewalk. The vote was preceded by two hours of discussion by Borough merchants and property owners, who were there for the official assessment hearing. (Property owners will be assessed approximately half the cost.) A number expressed displeasure and dismay at the scheduling of the work.

Borough Engineer Carl Peters said the bids were expected in on September 7, and that the contractors could probably begin working on the sidewalks on October 1. It will be a 120-day job, he said, which would take completion through January of next year. Last month, it was announced that the work would be completed by Thanksgiving.

Mayor Barbara Sigmund said she meant that the sidewalks — not the entire project — would be completed by Thanksgiving. She pointed out that, no matter what, the work would stop then and not be taken up again until after Christmas. In addition to new sidewalks from Palmer Square to Vandeventer Street, the reconstruction project includes new trees, benches, kiosks, planters, curbs, waste baskets, street lights, bicycle racks and parking meters.

But on Monday night it did not seem certain that even the sidewalks could be completed by Thanksgiving. John Leoncavello of Fellows, Read, the West Windsor firm employed by the Borough to design and oversee the sidewalk reconstruction, said that a concrete sidewalk could be laid before Thanksgiving, but bluestone might take longer.

The Borough has gone to bid on two designs for the sidewalk, one of concrete and the other of bluestone. The concrete sidewalk, favored by Councilmen Mark Freda and John Huntoon, is expected to cost less than the bluestone, which Mayor Barbara Sigmund appears to prefer.

Robert Landau, of Landau's, read a letter from Mr. and Mrs. George Garfield, owner of the Landau's building, in which they stated their intention to to engage a lawyer to sue the Borough over the condition of the sidewalk. Mr. Landau added that Mr. Garfield is currently being approached by a woman who fell on the sidewalk in front of Landau's.

Mr. Landau said that 70 percent of his store's business is done between October and February, and that it would be incredibly insensitive to schedule the sidewalk work at that time of year.

Mayor Sigmund responded that it was the consensus of the Borough merchants' group that October and November was the time to do the work, rather than September, when the students were returning.

After Several Tries at Corporate Management Concept of Innkeeper Returns to Nassau Inn

In at least the fourth change in management in the seven years since Collins Corporation took it over, there are new faces at the helm of the Nassau Inn. They are Nelson and Beth Zager, he originally of Los Angeles and she of Manhattan.

Their arrival early this month marks a management switch from a series of chains — most recently, Omni — and a return to the concept of innkeeper. Other chains that have tried their hand at managing the Nassau Inn were Aircoa and Restaurant Associates.

Mr. and Mrs. Zager are living as close to the Inn as possible without actually taking up residence in it. They, and their 11-month-old son, Joshua, have moved into an apartment on Palmer Square West.

Omni's stay was marked by the introduction of Palmer's and the renovation of the Tap Room. But it will probably be best remembered for its short-lived attempt at a major alteration of the Tap Room's image.

Exactly two years ago, the Tap Room announced plans to begin a "nuts and bolts night," where each person could select a nut or bolt at the door and try to find its match in the crowd. Other events were to be a Dolly Parton look-alike contest, an adult fashion show of sleepwear, and a troupe of sexy male dancers. The plans were cancelled soon after they were announced..

Mr. and Mrs. Zager say they are there to "take the Inn back." They said Collins Corporation officials felt that the individuality of the hotel had been taken away. "Chains do what is good for the chain. Our hotel is different," said Mr. Zager. "There are beams and fireplaces, and a history behind it."

Mr. Zager, 39, was with Hilton for five years and Hyatt for 13 years. He operated 25 hotels for Hyatt, and oversaw the food and beverage

Sidewalks

"She's totally wrong," snapped Sharon Lanahan of Richard's. "We thought it would be done in the summer."

Ray Wadsworth, of Wadsworth's Gourmet Bakery and The Flower Market, was at the meeting to represent the merchants' group. He said that no one would stand for the work going into Christmas. "Either we start the job and finish by Thanksgiving, or we start in the spring — like we were going to start this spring," he said. (In February, the Mayor announced at a press conference that the sidewalks would be completed by Labor Day.)

Jerry Berner, a vice president of the Palmer Square Corporation, pointed out that 65 to 70 percent of Palmer Square retail business is done between October and December.

But Ms. Lanahan expressed concern about liability if the work were postponed until spring. "The sidewalk is sinking in," she said. "If you stand on the sidewalk in front of my window you sink in."

Mayor Sigmund asked Mr. Peters whether all the pavement could be done before Thanksgiving. She was told it depended on the weather.

Commenting on the events of Monday night, Mr. Landau said that, "it looks like we will have to get all the merchants and building owners together and tell the Borough not to start the work in October. In winter, this place is going to be a disaster."

Family Nature Walks At Wildflower Preserve

Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve will conduct family nature walks each Sunday in September.

The walks begin at the Preserve headquarters building at 2 p.m. and last approximately one hour. They are free to members of the Preserve. A donation of $1 per person or $2 per family is asked of others.

For further information call Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve at (215) 862-2924.

New Programs Offered Here for Fall by YMCA

The Princeton Family YMCA has announced two new programs for the fall.

The "Silver Foxes," a social and outing club for area residents 55 and older, will meet at the Y every Thursday between 11:30 and 1, starting September 15. A typical meeting will include a potluck luncheon, guest speaker and informal social time. Weekly meetings are $1 for YMCA members, $3 for nonmembers.

"Bright Lights," a drama workshop for children in kindergarten through sixth grade, will begin in the fall. It will be directed by Y Youth Director Rip Pellaton, a veteran of community and collegiate productions. Princetonians may recall him as the "Town Crier" during this year's Communiversity Day.

For more information about either program, call the Princeton Family YMCA at 497-YMCA.

The Family YMCA has also announced the appointment of Karen L. Smith as Associate Physical Director. Ms. Smith, who graduated with honors from Furman University in South Carolina with a major in health and physical education, will manage the Y's adult sports and fitness programs.

Ms. Smith sees her greatest challenge in her new position as securing additional facilities for the Y's increasingly popular sports leagues.

HIS EYE IS ON THE GROUND: Borough merchant Ray Wadsworth has been keeping close watch on all the work currently under way on downtown streets, particularly Elizabethtown Water Company's installation of new water mains under Witherspoon. Mr. Wadsworth said the summer has been bad for the merchants, "and we want the crews in and out, so that as soon as students get back our business can pick up." He said that merchants, residents, and the Police Department have all been cooperative during the excavation. Weather permitting, the work on Witherspoon should be completed by September 9.

PDS Subdivision Ready For Approval Review

A proposal to develop 50 lots on property off Pretty Brook Road formerly owned by Princeton Day School will be reviewed by the Planning Board's Site Plan Review Advisory Board (SPRAB) on Wednesday, September 14.

The proposal, which also includes faculty housing for Princeton Day School, will be reviewed by the Planning Board at an extra meeting on Thursday, September 22. Opposition is expected from residents of Brooks Bend, who objected to the traffic that will be generated by the project when it was first reviewed in concept last November. Residents also objected to the density of the proposed development.

An entity calling itself Pond View Partnership intends to develop the 88-acre tract in conjunction with Princeton Day School, using a site plan and housing plans designed by The Hillier Group, architects. If plans currently on file are approved by the Planning Board, 72 acres in the central and southern portions of the irregularly shaped tract will be subdivided into 50 lots. Pond View intends to develop a mix of 28 single family homes and 22 "townhomes" in six "manorhome" structures on the 50 lots.

A 16.84-acre lot is expected to be created at the northern end of the tract, which Pond View intends to convey back to the school. Here 30 faculty townhomes and duplex units will be constructed in six clusters. The two developments are viewed by the developer as distinct from one another, although subdivision and site plan approval are sought for both simultaneously.

Half Open Space. Fifty percent of each development will be left in open space, according to the plans. The 72 acres are zoned R-1 AH — residential two acre minimum with an affordable housing set-aside on 10 percent of the tract. However, as permitted in the affordable housing ordinance, the Township is asking for a monetary contribution in lieu of actual housing units. Pond View will be contributing $725,900 to the Township Housing Fund for renovation or construction of Mt. Laurel housing, according to the developer's calculation.

The number of units are somewhat higher than allowed under present zoning. However, a zoning amendment permitting a density bonus for a project also involving construction of faculty or staff housing on abutting property is actively under consideration.

The Pond View Partnership application notes that the ordinance amendment "must be in place" by time of the public hearing on its application in order to make the application conforming. The plans also say that the traffic effect will be "mainly limited" to Pretty Brook Road.

The little cemetery containing the graves of Dean Mathey and his two wives will be preserved, and an existing roadway above the two ponds will become a walking path. Mr. Mathey, a New York banker, donated the original land for the construction of Princeton Day School some 25 years ago and also willed his home to the school.

New Housing Type. Open space on the tract, presumably including the path and the ponds, will be under the ownership of a homeowners association once all the houses are constructed. During the public hearing on the concept, J. Robert Hillier Jr., principal and founder of the Hillier Group, described the "manorhome" structures in which the 22 townhomes would be clustered as a new housing type.

Each townhome would have its own automobile courtyard, Mr. Hillier said, and each

IT'S QUIET NOW, but wait until Wednesday, when more than 200 Princeton Regional school children will enter Littlebrook for the first time in five years. The school closed in 1983 because of declining enrollment.

public address system and new playground equipment, and for compliance with handicapped access laws.

The principal is new — Dr. Robert Ginsberg, formerly with the East Brunswick system — and so are two of the teachers, Penny Molnar and JoAnn Fuschini. Other teachers on the staff were formerly at Riverside and Community Park.

Littlebrook will not be fully occupied by Princeton Regional students until September, 1989. Currently, about a third of the building is home to the Lakeside Montessori School, which will remain there for one more year.

The refurbishing of Littlebrook has been going on all summer. Special praise is given by Dr. Ginsberg to the building and grounds crew. "They have done an absolutely wonderful job," he said, "working in 100-degree heat. They deserve a Nobel Prize for something; these men and women are really the unsung heroes."

Volunteers, too, have pitched in. A parents' group organized a playground paint-in, which drew not only parents, but students, teachers, and members of the administrative staff, including Dr. Ginsberg and School Superintendent Carol Choye. It was a typical 97-degree day when they all met to paint the equipment. Work will begin soon on a new playground, but, for now, the brightly colored swings and slides look especially welcoming.

Atums Dropping By. People have been dropping in all summer, said Dr. Ginsberg. "Parents came in to discuss placement of their children, and some people came in with stories of when they were children here."

A rededication of the school is planned for September 14, as part of the family picnic. Former emptoyees have been invited, and the buildings and grounds crew will be publicly honored during the event.

Two members of the teaching staff are graduates of Littlebrook: JoAnn Fuschini, who teaches the multi-handicapped, and Carmel Sharon, the resource room teacher. A third, learning consultant Okie Hrycak, graduated from Princeton High School.

"I loved the school," said Mrs. Fuschini, who recently taught in the Ewing system. "I have nothing but good memories of it."

Littlebrook will be the only elementary school in Princeton with a class for the multi-handicapped, those youngsters who have been classified as having more than one bandicap. The class will contain four to six children.

Class of 2001. Mindful that the entering kindergarten class will be the first to graduate in the 21st century, Dr. Ginsberg said he wanted to focus on technology, "because I think that is the direction society is going." One step is the installation of a computerized card catalog in the library. "Children will access through the computer because by the time they're in high school and college, there won't be card catalogs," he said.

But he does not want to lose sight of the whole person. He noted that three staff members play the piano, and that instruments are being bought for them. "I don't want youngsters to think that music is something only in the music period," he said, "but rather something that enriches life."

Although the majority of youngsters will walk to school, two and a half buses will be employed. These will carry children from Redding Circle and the Institute for Advanced Study. Dr. Ginsberg feels that the presence of international students from the Institute and elsewhere will add an extra dimension to the school, and looks forward to such events as an international festival.

After leaving the cleaned and polished building, where the afternoon light was streaming into the multi-windowed walls, the principal took a visitor around the green and pleasant school grounds. In the distance, two young deer took tentative steps toward the shelter of a large tree. Dr. Ginsberg — who taught for ten years in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section — remarked that it would be wonderful if all children could go to school in a place like this.

—Myrna K. Bearse

operations of 58 hotels from his office in Chicago. He was most recently with the Lincoln Hotel Company in Dallas.

Mrs. Zager, 38, has 18 years of experience in hotel sales. She began her career in Marbella, Spain, where she worked for several hotels arranging everything from bullfights to banquets. It was while she was director of sales for the Hyatt Regency in Los Angeles that she met her future husband.

The couple first heard about the Nassau Inn about a year and a half ago, when they met the principals of Collins Corporation — Arthur Collins and Arthur Emil — at a social function in New York. "We got caught up in the excitement of the inn," said Mr. Zager, "especially that of Arthur Collins, who had gone to Princeton and used to frequent the inn."

Mr. Zager said he fell in love with the property the first time he came to Princeton. "It was incredible seeing the Inn from Nassau Street, a phenomenal sight."

Back to Its Roots. The couple plan to take the Inn back "to the roots where hospitality started." Everyone knows the Nassau Inn, said Mr. Zager. "Airco and Omni took away too much of the feeling, atmosphere, and ambiance of what it represents. It's not a major chain, not a cookie cutter hotel."

They admit it is very unusual to have a couple, not a chain, at the reins of a hotel like the Nassau Inn, and they say they are excited that the owners have put so much trust and faith in them.

With its addition now complete, the Nassau Inn contains 217 rooms, three restaurants, a main ballroom, 13 meeting rooms, and a health club. The new managers plan to redo the hotel's Palmer Square East entrance, as well as redesign and redecorate the downstairs lobby. It will be opened up and expanded, said Mr. Zager, and antiques will be added, "so people will know it has been here a long time."

Also planned is a renovation of the older guest rooms in the Nassau wing. There, Mr. and Mrs. Zager plan to add such amenities as down comforters, antiques, and special wall treatments. "We want this to be totally out of the ordinary," said Mr. Zager, "so people will walk in and say they haven't seen a desk like that since grandmother, or great-grandmother, had one."

Mr. Zager says the staff is is excited by the efforts that are planned to return the Inn to its former identity. At least 50 employees, he noted, have been with the Inn for a long time, and some are second generation. "We have a housekeeper here for 38 years, and her mother before her was here for 27 years," he said.

Even with the burgeoning of large luxury hotels on Route 1, Mr. Zager says the Nassau Inn has done well in past years. "We have a core of groups that have come to the hotel for many years," he said, "and that core would make any hotel successful."

Mr. Zager plans to move his office downstairs, near the entrance. He wants it there so he can meet and greet people as they come in. "So many people depend on staff who have been here so long," he says. "Now we are adding stability to management."

The couple view their tenure at the Inn as long-term, and are looking forward to being in Princeton for many, many years. They've even begun to think how nice it would be for young Joshua to attend the University.

WHERE DO WE TIE THE HORSES? Looking like a street out of the old west (sans port-a-john and parking sign), Hulfish Street awaits the final paving that will make it again traversable. If the weather cooperates — and there isn't too much rain — the street will be open by Labor Day.

would look out on its own bit of real estate. He said the manorhomes would be large and luxurious, with the fieldstone look and steeply pitched roofs of Norman architecture. However, Planning Board members said there were "one too many" manorhomes in the proposed site plan, and asked Mr. Hillier to "pull them back" further from the ponds. "We should be talking 44 units, not 50," one member said at the time, although it was also acknowledged that the plan "has an attractive aspect."

Revision Is Proposed In Office/Research Zone

Office buildings in the Township office/research zone that devote a substantial portion of their space to laboratory research could be bigger than presently allowed if a proposed ordinance amendment is adopted.

The proposed amendment, which would raise the floor area ratio (FAR) in the OR-1 and OR-2 zones off Bunn Drive, is scheduled to be discussed by the Planning Board on Tuesday night. The board meets at 7:30 in the Valley Road building and will devote most of the evening to a continuation of the hearing on the Ettl Farm subdivision and site plan proposal.

Floor area ratio is the ratio of building to the lot on which it sits. Expressed in a percentage, it is used to regulate the amount of commercial construction in the same way that minimum lot size requirements control the density of residential development. The FAR of the OR-1 zone along the steeply wooded sections of Bunn Drive was reduced to eight percent two years ago, after traffic surveys conducted by the Township predicted acute congestion on area streets if all the land were developed at the then-existing zoning.

Similarly, the FAR in the less restrictive OR-2 zone at the foot of Bunn Drive, where the topography is flatter, was reduced to 10 percent. The proposed ordinance amendment would raise these floor area ratios to 11 and 13 percent, respectively, if at least 40 percent of all existing and proposed buildings on the site are used for laboratory research.

Research Is Defined. The proposed amendment includes a lengthy paragraph defining "laboratory research." Professional Planner Duggan Kimball said the amendment was developed in response to a request from Township Committee to see if ways could be found to increase the FAR in the office research zones without adversely affecting traffic. Two owners of property in the OR-2 zone, Church & Dwight and Peterson's Guides, had strongly objected to the reduction in the FAR and thus in their ability to develop their properties to the extent each had anticipated.

Another property owner, Dr. and Mrs. Lowe of Chatham, sued the Township following the reduction in FAR to eight and 10 percent. That litigation has not yet been resolved. Mr. Kimball said he and Township Zoning Officer Peter Kneski had surveyed laboratory research facilities in the area, such as FMC and the Sarnoff Laboratories, and designed the proposed ordinance amendment to be consistent with zoning affecting this type of research.

Mr. Kimball said their survey showed that only laboratory research resulted in a lower employee ratio. Other types of research could have more people per square foot and thus generate more traffic, he suggested, but laboratory research typically requires conduit corridors for utilities

Storehouse for Thefts? Police Raid Apartment

An Alexander Street resident has been charged by Borough police with five counts of possession of stolen property in the aftermath of a search conducted August 19 by four Borough officers.

The resident, Larry Madden, 42, whom police described as the owner-occupant of an apartment at 80 Alexander Street, faces possible additional possession charges until police complete the process of checking out a cache of other articles found in his apartment. Among them, according to Capt. Thomas Michaud, are four bicycles, a small refrigerator, cassette decks, stereo sets, speakers and amplifiers, television sets, a violin, clock radios, cameras and sleeping bags.

Mr. Madden, who has been released pending possible action by a Mercer County Grand Jury, "claims all the items are his," Capt. Michaud said. "So we have to determine what is and what isn't — which can be a time-consuming process."

Police, he continued, have so far made positive identification on five stolen items. They are a $375 guitar, stereo component set, window fan, folding chairs and desk chairs. All were stolen in the Borough. Capt. Michaud estimated their combined value at $1,000.

In addition to the stolen property charges, Mr. Madden has been charged with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Capt. Michaud reported that, initially, police had received information about the stolen items. "We investigated and developed that information into probable cause that the stolen items were in his apartment."

Continued Capt. Michaud: "This led to an application for a search warrant. If the judge deems a probable cause exists, he will issue a warrant. Obviously, in this case he believed there was probable cause."

After a Superior Court judge had granted the search warrant (the application was prepared by Det. Ralph Terracciano), it was executed by two officers and two detectives. All the items were found in the apartment of Mr. Madden, who was arrested.

Capt. Michaud commented that while the cache of items police have seized is worth much more than the few they have so far been able to identify as stolen, "I want to emphasize that we can't substantiate all were stolen."

Education Funding Declared Flawed

A State administrative law judge last week declared New Jersey's system of financing public education constitutionally flawed. He said the system did not eliminate financing disparities between affluent suburban and poor urban school districts.

In his 607-page ruling, Judge Steven L. Lefelt found that the State's school financing law held the same problems that it was designed to address when it was enacted 13 years ago. The judge's ruling is expected to be reviewed by the New Jersey State Supreme Court.

In 1973, the State Supreme Court ruled against the State's system of school financing, which relied largely on local property taxes. The ruling led to the enactment of the State income tax and increased State aid to local districts.

But, last week, the judge concluded that this new law contained defects which contributed to continued inequity.

The 1975 law was successfully challenged by the Educational Law Center in Newark and the State's Public Advocate. The Public Advocate, Alfred A. Slocum, compared the Princeton district with that of Camden. He said that Princeton spent $7,015 on each pupil in the 1987-88 school year, while Camden spent $4,500. He added that this disparity was reflected in the passing rate of students in the two systems on proficiency tests: 93 percent in Princeton and 23 percent in Camden.

Marilyn J. Morheuser, lawyer for the Educational Law Center, and Mr. Slocum plan to file a motion to take the case directly to the State Supreme Court. Judge Lefelt pointed out that only this body could declare the school funds law unconstitutional. "My observations about constitutionality and remedy are clearly only recommendations," he said.

Plainsboro Man Charged With Drug, MV Violations

A Plainsboro resident, William R. Thompson, 24, of Ravens Crest, was charged last week by Borough police with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana, driving while on a revoked list and careless driving.

Two officers of the Borough's Safe Neighborhood Patrol were on Palmer Square late Friday night when they noticed a car operating in an erratic manner. Ptl. Gary Mitchell tried to flag down the car, but the driver disregarded his signal. The car stopped after Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel jumped partially into the roadway and also attempted to flag down the car.

During the intial contact, the officers observed an open can of beer on the floor in front of the passenger's seat. They issued the passenger, Gregory Mitchell, a summons for an open container of alcohol in a motor vehicle.

A further search uncovered a small amount of marijuana in the car's center console.

Suspicious Car. There was another marijuana incident in the Township last week. After receiving a call reporting a suspicious car parked in the lot of the Textile Research Institute, 601 Prospect Avenue, Det. David Funk and Ptl. Robert Buchanan responded.

Upon arrival, following the 9:12 call last Wednesday evening, the officers noticed two youths in a parked car. During a further investigation, they found a plastic bag containing a greenish-brown substance believed to be marijuana. They charged Daniel J. Maistron, 19, of Kendall Park, and a 17-year-old Princeton juvenile with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana.

Brooklyn Youth Charged With Shopliftings Here

A 14-year-old Brooklyn youth has been charged with stealing items from four Borough stores.

The youth was arrested August 16 at the MarketFair on Route 1 by West Windsor police, who did not notify Borough police until eight days later. In his possession was a knapsack which contained items he had allegedly shoplifted in the Borough.

From Norman's on Nassau Street, police recovered three pairs of Mickey Mouse boxer shorts valued at $48. From Benetton on Palmer Square, a $40 pair of women's jeans and from H. Gross & Co., One Palmer Square, 12 pairs of socks valued at $144. Allegedly stolen from Woolworth's on Nassau Street were a blue skirt, two red shirts, two Mickey Mouse scarves and six tee-shirts worth a combined $106.

The youth, who will be processed by Borough juvenile authorities for shoplifting and by West Windsor authorities for possession of stolen property, told police he had taken a bus to Princeton with friends and that all were involved. He was the only one charged.

Capt. Thomas Michaud said the items had not been reported stolen by the stores here until they were shown the stolen articles.

Two Rooms Are Entered In Forbes College Dorm

Two adjoining students' rooms in Forbes College on the Princeton University campus were entered last week without force.

A thief stole $314 from atop a desk in an unlocked room which was entered between 7:30 and 10:30 Friday night. Lt. Mario Musso of the Township police reported that entry was gained either through an unlocked hallway door or an open window.

A roommate of the victim told police that $50 had been stolen from his wallet, which he had left in his adjoining room. Again, both the door and window had not been locked, Lt. Musso said.

The Family Service Agency on John Street in the Borough was entered during the weekend by an intruder who cut the screen of a second-floor window, removed the screen and then opened the window.

Taken from the main office was less than $50 in petty cash. Capt. Thomas Michaud reported that the thief also ransacked several drawers but nothing else was taken.

Bills, Coins Are Taken From Vending Machine

Coins and single dollar bills amounting to $600 were stolen last week from a snack vending machine located in a lunch room at Epstein's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Township police report someone removed three bags of money from the machine, but add there was no evidence of it being forced open. They identified the owner as Health Vend of New Jersey, a Belle Mead firm.

A Hightstown resident told police that a large shopping bag filled with items was stolen from the trunk of her car while it was parked early last week at the Princeton Shopping Center. She could not remember, she said, whether she had locked the car or not. There was no forced entry.

Total value of the items was $419. Included in the bag were seven books, eyeglasses and a $100 fountain pen.

At 1:30 Saturday morning, after returning to his car which he had parked less than an hour earlier in the Princeton Medical Center garage, a Somerset resident discovered that the glove compartment box was open. Missing were an AM/FM clock radio valued at $60 and a $15 flashlight. There was no forced entry into the car.

In the Borough, a 1987 Nissan, valued at approximately $11,000, was stolen last week from the University Store lot on University Place.

The owner, a Borough resident, told police that the keys were not in the car. It was taken during a three-hour period last Tuesday.

Four chrome disc hubcaps were stolen between 2 and 3 Monday morning from the 1987 Mercury of a Trenton resident while the car was parked in the lot to the rear of the Nassau Broadcasting Company building, 221 Witherspoon Street.

In one of two bicycle thefts in the Borough last week, a woman's 10-speed Huffy model, valued at $120, was taken from the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden Street, where it had been locked to itself but not to a rack. The owner is a Township resident.

Another Township resident locked the front wheel of her 10-

Bridge on Carter Road Again Shut by Accident

For about the 12th time in two years, an accident on the Carter Road bridge caused the bridge to be closed for repairs. It is now reopened to traffic.

In an incident last week, a resident of Lawrence drove his van over the bridge, where its top crashed against the overhead steel support beams, pulling the beams down.

The bridge, operated by Mercer County, carries more than 11,000 vehicles a day. It is scheduled to be completely rebuilt.

The addition of the overhead beams — which have proved the scourge of many drivers — was necessary to shore up the present bridge, according to Mercer County Engineer Donald Harney. They will not be necessary on the new bridge.

One accident on the bridge last year led to the death of a driver.

Traffic Problems Seen On Palmer Square East

For the second time this summer, Borough merchant Ray Wadsworth appeared before Borough Council to discuss the problems facing pedestrians on Palmer Square East. After his first appearance, the Borough drew a lined crosswalk from Chambers Walk across to the Nassau Inn. Pedestrians report that vehicles park on the crosswalk routinely.

Mr. Wadsworth asked for a stop sign at the turn down Palmer Square East. "Cars come down faster than ever before," he said. "Someone will get hit or killed."

Councilwoman Jane Terpstra agreed it was a high-hazard area, and asked Police Capt. Thomas Michaud to make sure that vehicles blocking the crosswalk are regularly ticketed.

Capt. Michaud said that the Police Department has been concerned about the area for quite a while, and that a study of Palmer Square East has been requested "to see how it can be redesigned, if possible, to make it safer."

He pointed to a particular hazard that had not been mentioned before — Post Office trucks backing into a pedestrian area — but told Council that a midstreet stop sign can create as many problems as it eliminates.

In other business, three residents of the Harriet Drive-Scott Lane area asked Council to provide hazardous route busing for their children, who were redistricted from Riverside to Littlebrook. They said there was no safe way for the youngsters to walk to Littlebrook, but that their efforts to remedy the problem with School Superintendent Carol Choye and Assistant Superintendent Don Maiocco had proved fruitless.

Mayor Sigmund asked Councilwomen Mildred Trotman and Jane Terpstra to form a committee to look into the situation.

Store Window Shattered By Bat-Wielding Suspect

An entrance door window of Fitness Force Inc. in the Princeton Shopping Center was shattered Saturday night by a man carrying a baseball bat.

An employee at the center witnessed the incident and called Township police at 8:21. He told them he saw a white male, about 6-4, carrying a bat, strike the window facing the parking lot and then drive off in a red Toyota.

Ban on Drinking on Borough Streets Under Consideration by Council

An ordinance that would ban the consumption of alcoholic beverages on public streets in the Borough is being drafted by Borough Attorney Michael Herbert. Whether to enact such a law is expected to be discussed at a Borough Council meeting after the ordinance has been prepared. No date has yet been set.

The decision to consider banning public drinking grew out of a neighborhood meeting held last week at Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, at which members of the John-Witherspoon community discussed their concerns about activities in the area around John, Lytle and Clay Streets. Councilman Rodney Fisk, who attended the meeting, brought the subject to Council.

Most of the people at the church meeting appeared surprised that there was no law prohibiting public consumption of alcohol on Borough streets. Some felt that such a law could help the Police Department control the noise, loitering, drinking, and drugs they say exist in their neighborhood.

At the Council meeting, Police Captain Thomas Michaud said that such a law would be helpful in certain areas, such as the corners of John and Lytle, and on Prospect, "when students are drinking beer."

However, he pointed out that the Police would be forced to enforce the law at other times, too, such as during the P-rade, reunions, and Communiversity.

Councilman Mark Freda agreed that such a law would have to be enforced uniformly. "You can't say you can't drink beer on John Street, but you can walk down Nassau Street in an orange and black coat and drink beer," he said.

There was some discussion at both meetings regarding a supposed Township law banning such public drinking. There is no such law in the Township. However, there is an ordinance banning the consumption of alcoholic beverages in public parks.

Mr. Herbert pointed out that laws against loitering had been historically used by police departments to deal with situations that related to drinking on public streets. However, such laws have been declared unconstitutional.

Replacement cost was estimated at $200. Police said there was no apparent reason for the act.

Earlier in the week, the passenger-side window of a 1980 AMC was smashed with an unknown object while it was parked overnight at Princeton Community Village.

Police report nothing was taken from the car. The owner is a resident of PCV.

Deadline Is September 9 For Park Survey Return

West Windsor Township mailed 6,500 surveys to Township registered voters on August 15 asking them to cast a vote "Yes" or "No" on whether the Township should purchase a 123-acre site for a future park.

The tract is one of the very few pieces of land left in West Windsor Township that has not been purchased by developers. A professional study paid for by the Township identified only one other tract that would be acceptable for a park. This piece of land has few trees on it, is very flat, has no body of water on it and is not near the center of the Township. The proposed land at the corner of Hightstown and North Mill roads has all of these attributes.

After strongly suggesting that the land be acquired, the Community Park Commmittee also suggested that a New Jersey Green acres parkland grant application be submitted to help finance the cost of the land, which is estimated at $4.3 million. Although the request for funding was submitted very late in the cycle, Green Acres personnel made two trips to the site and after hearing how little parkland there is available, they authorized a $3 million loan at two percent interest.

Because the proposed parkland has the Big Bear Brook as its northern border, and since Green Acres funding had previously been obtained for the restoration of the Grovers Mill Pond and Big Bear Brook, $200,000 is also available from this source of funding.

More than 1,100 surveys have already been returned. Friday, September 9, is the last day they can be accepted. The Community Park Committee will have a booth at the Township's annual picnic on Friday to answer any questions that residents might have about acquiring the proposed parkland.

New Faculty Are Listed By Princeton Day School

Princeton Day School begins its 23rd year on Thursday, September 8, when classes for all students, junior kindergarten through grade 12, begin at 8:15 a.m. Orientation for all new students and their parents will be held on Wednesday, September 7, from 8:30 to 10 in the morning.

Headmaster Duncan W. Alling has announced new faculty appointments for the 1988-89 academic year. In the lower school, Dorothy Finnerty will be teaching in the third grade, Richard Zane will be teaching science as an intern, and Beth Wheeler wil coordinate the after-school program.

In the middle school, Regina Lemerich will be the new head of the Mathematics Department, Susan Daly Rouse will be the chairman of the English Department, Seth Anderson will teach Latin and history, Ana Sauthoff and Martha Finne will be part-time teachers of Spanish, Nicholas Moran will teach French, and Deborah Kadel joins the Music Department on a part-time basis.

In the Upper School, Ernest Garcia will become the new chairman of the Science Department, Paul Brown will teach science, Scott Spence will teach history, Kate Winton will teach English, and Mirta B. Marlys will teach Spanish. Jill Thomas has been named chairman of the Physical Education Department, and Sandy Jones will be the athletic team nurse.

Free Learn to Swim For Adults at YWCA

YWCA Aquatics Department and the Princeton Area Red Cross Chapter are offering a free-to-YWCA-members, "Learn to Swim" for adults.

The class will be held on Thursday and Friday, September 8 and 9, from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. There is a $5 charge to nonmembers. Registration is required by September 7 for this concentrated program. Experienced teachers will offer instruction in a relaxed atmosphere.

Registration is also under way for the YWCA fall aquatics program that starts the youngest swimmer in parent/child "Waterbabies." Preschoolers may sign up for Parent/Toddlers, 4- and 5-year-old swims, or Pre-Red Cross. Parents may also swim during certain 4- and 5-year-old swim classes.

Youth aquatics follow Red Cross progressions. Special classes for more advance swimmers are synchronized swim, diving, and the competitive swim clinic. "Adapted Aquatics" helps the physically or mentally disabled child enjoy water exercise.

Adults may join beginner to advanced classes such as water aerobics and early morning swims. Pre-natal water exercise and water exercise for seniors and nonswimmers, are designed for special needs. Aquatic therapy is provided in the arthritis and rehabilitation swim program and in Sunday swims from 1 to 2 p.m.

In cooperation with the American Red Cross, the YWCA also offers First Aid, CPR, water safety and life guard training.

The fall session begins September 13. For a brochure with mail-in registration, call 497-2100.

Annual Plowing Match At Howell History Farm

Teamsters from five Garden State counties will take part in Howell Living History Farm's fifth annual plowing match on Saturday.

Professional plowing and driving events, pony rides and a craft program for youngsters, competition plowing for visitors, and a pig roast will be part of the day's program, which will run from 9:30 to 4. Free parking and admission are offered by the sponsor of

Pool Manager Thanked For Maintaining Quality

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The undersigned members of the Princeton Community Pool are taking this opportunity to express our strong support for Larry Ivan in his capacity as manager of the pool.

Most of us have been regular users of the Community Pool for many years — some, in fact, since it opened in the mid-60's — and we are unanimous in believing that it has always been a superior facility, one we love to use, and one that adds immeasurably to the pleasure of living in Princeton. And we give Mr. Ivan credit for much of this high quality.

Under Mr. Ivan's management, the pool has always been safe, clean and orderly. The lifeguards, under his direction, have always been watchful and reliable. But that is only the beginning.

Members of the special groups that use the pool are represented among the undersigned citizens, and are particularly warm in their commendation of Mr. Ivan's understanding of their special needs and his sympathetic willingness and ability to adapt schedules, facilities and rules to their requirements. The handicapped and senior citizens are especially grateful to him.

Others — parents of young children who cannot swim and older children who are learning, members of the competitive swimming and diving team, day campers who swim there daily, young people from all sections of town who come to frolic and see one another, divers, serious lap swimmers, sun bathers, Sunday Times readers, socializers, picnickers — all find the Community Pool a friendly, refreshing gathering place for a true cross-section of Princeton's population.

This atmosphere of community could never have developed and could not have been maintained so long and so consistently without the firm but kindly direction that Mr. Ivan has given it. Sensible rules have been established, communicated effectively to members, and thereafter enforced.

Running on the deck is not allowed; food is not taken where it is forbidden; trash is picked up and disposed of; dangerous horseplay in and out of the water is quickly identified and stopped; offensive behavior is not tolerated; the pool is cleared quickly and efficiently when a dangerous storm approaches. All this is accomplished with low-keyed good humor.

We take pleasure in expressing in this semi-official manner our gratitude to Mr. Ivan for his efforts in making possible and pleasurable this important part of our lives.

(The above letter was signed by close to 60 Princeton residents.)

West Windsor Needs A Community Park

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The "quality of life" in West Windsor Township is being threatened again.

We are all aware of the rapid development of local farm lands and open spaces into developments and commercial sites which has become a "way of life" in recent times. We are all familiar with the struggle of the school board to keep up with the influx of students, and we've all experienced the deterioration of local roads which now must accommodate bumper to bumper traffic, and our Township has been threatened with dissection by major highways to accommodate future traffic.

The character of life in this Township has changed greatly in the past years and is facing even greater changes in the next few years. This growth is a challenge to us — to all the citizens of the Township.

It is in our power to do something to maintain and even improve the "quality of life" in West Windsor in the face of such rapid development. The taxpayers in the Township are being surveyed with a mail ballot regarding the Township's proposed acquisition of a potential community park site.

West Windsor needs a community park — we need the recreation center, the sports fields, the open spaces for the enjoyment of everyone in the community. Such a park has been in our master plan for years — the need for it is increasing, but our time is running out. According to a professional study completed during the past year, this is the last visible parcel of land in the Township, and our ballots are due September 9.

Our "quality of life" in the future is being threatened by complacency today — so many people acknowledge the urgent need for a community park and the facilities it would offer and are in favor of the proposal now before the Township Committee, but for some reason they are confident that the land will be purchased, and they haven't bothered to return their ballots.

"We're too busy getting ready for school," or "It's around here somewhere — one vote can't really matter." Sure we've had over 1,500 responses to date, but with the overwhelming need that exists today for this park, we should see an overwhelming favorable response to this ballot!

It is unfortunate that anonymous "concerned citizens" have raised inaccuracies and misleading red flags in an attempt to organize the defeat of this park.

Now more than ever we need the support of every concerned voter in the Township — find your ballot, vote 'Yes' and return it before September 9. It's our future: let's do something for it now!

Put County Bottle Bill Back on November Ballot

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is unfortunate that the Mercer County Bottle Bill has been struck from the November ballot.

Citizens worked hard for the past year, gathering signatures and educating others to bring the Bottle Bill to the voters this Fall. Now, because of a move by industries opposing a Bottle Bill, voters have been denied their right to initiative and referendum.

It is outrageous that narrow interests can control our democratic right to vote. I am hopeful that higher New Jersey courts will overturn Judge Levy's decision, and that residents of the County will be given back their right to vote.

If this happens I believe County voters will pass the Bottle Bill, giving us less broken glass, fewer broken promises and unbroken faith in our ability to improve our habitat.

Cancer Society Thanks Area Friends for Help

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of the American Cancer Society, I would like to extend a great many thanks to all my friends and to the people of Princeton Township and Borough who graciously donated their time and money to the 1988 cancer crusade.

Congratulations and warm thanks should be extended not only to all neighborhood captains, but also to the many crusaders who walked the streets and knocked on doors.

Due to this combined dedication, hard work and the generosity of all the Princetonians and friends we have raised almost $23,000 dollars.

I am sincerely proud to represent you, a community that obviously cares very much for the ultimate pursuit — the cure of cancer.

Thanks for everything.

GOING BACK

40 Years Ago

Dr. Albert Einstein of 112 Mercer Street issued a denial that he was going to Oak Ridge, Tenn., to help direct the atomic energy project there.

TOWN TOPICS reported that the Borough had reached a saturation point for new construction of large scale projects with the completion of the new faculty housing near Palmer Stadium.

Employment opportunities included a home economist opening with a weekly salary of $45; typist, $35; and radio-television serviceman, $75.

A 68-acre Lawrenceville farm with stone dwelling was advertised at $45,000, while a four-piece living room suite to furnish it was on sale for $150.

The movies often changed three times a week at Princeton's two theaters. Eoster Parade, Fort Apache, and Key Largo were among the many playing in August.

"Bomb the bugs with DDT," advertised the druggist. A simple bomb for household pests was only $1.09.

35 Years Ago

The TOWN TOPICS "Mon of the Week" was future University president Robert Goheen. Described as an "able young classicist" celebrating his 34th birthday, he had been etected director of the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program.

Marquand Park was formally created when 17 acres of the Marquand Estate were transferred to the Borough.

Grocer Bamman's advertised the easy parking in the municipal lot across Nassau Street. "The fee is five cents for 2½ hours which we cheerfully refund on all purchases over $1." Of course they also delivered.

"Let Your Money Work for You," advertised one bank offering two percent interest.

Princeton's fourth traffic light, the first addition in more than a quarter of a century, was installed at Nassau and Harrison streets. The busy intersection of Bayard Lane, Stockton and Mercer streets had been under discussion but no action was taken.

A University professor and his wife and child were looking for a 2-3 bedroom house to rent for under $100. For those willing to buy, a three-bedroom house near the high-school was advertised at $13,000.

30 Years Ago

A discussion between the Borough Engineer and State officials about traffic that backs up Washington Road all the way to Prospect and beyond, brought "no suggestions" from the State Highway Department representative.

The Borough Engineer submitted a map showing 13 Borough streets that have no sidewalks on either side. One of these, Hamilton Avenue, heavily traveled even then, was of special concern.

The wrecking ball that would destroy The Playhouse was way in the future. Now, moviegoers had the chance to see Henry Fonda and Susan Strasberg in Stage Struck. The Garden was showing a double feature, The Witch and The Lost Paradise.

Lahiere's Garage, 15-27 Spring Street, advertised a "colorful display" of the new Peugeot (pronounced Pooj-oh!, said the ad). The price? $2,280, delivered here.

And for a Princeton trivia question gleaned from reading ads in the 1958 TOWN TOPICS — what was the 92- Princeton exchange in the days when names instead of numbers were provided by the phone company? Answer: WAlnut.

Davidson's had a steak sale, with sirloin at 79 cents a pound and porterhouse at 89 cents. But if that was too much, a dollar would buy ten cans of pork and beans.

In the Township a four-bedroom colonial was on the market for $30,000. A four-bedroom Cape Cod in the Borough bore a $27,500 price tag.

In the "Was He Ever Right" Department, Mercer County Conservation Officer Lentho Burns said that the large herd of deer in Princeton Township, unless checked periodically, would multiply to such an extent "as to make driving after dusk unsafe."

20 Years Ago

Back-to-school population numbered 5,002 in the third school year since the regionalization of Borough and Township schools. Of this number, 1,750 were going to Princeton High School; 1062 to the middle school, and 2,190 to the elementary schools.

TOWN TOPICS published a list of Princeton area residents serving in Vietnam, and included addresses at which to write them. They numbered 36.

A Princeton University senior was awarded the top marks from the University's Department of Statistics for a thesis which successfully predicted the outcome of 72 percent of all Ivy League basketball games played that winter.

A two-bedroom apartment in town was renting for $200 a month, while a contemporary ranch in Riverside with four bedrooms, 2½ baths, air conditioning, and a lake view was offered for $69,000.

A delay on the dedication of Princeton University's new Jadwin Gymnasium was anticipated because of a strike by iron workers.

John Lithgow, son of Arthur Lithgow, McCarter's executive director and a graduate of Princeton High School and of Harvard, was scheduled to direct As You Like It at McCarter.

The pace of summer was slower in Princeton. The Borough and Township Planning Boards didn't bother to meet in August and Township Committee cancelled its early August meeting. The School Board tried to meet in July but couldn't raise a quorum.

10 Years Ago

A new park, Community Park North, was almost ready for the public. The amphitheatre was nearing completion and the picnic areas and wooden playground sculpture were already in use.

Along with the park came a new jug handle on Bayard Lane at Mountain Avenue.

The Princeton Real Estate Group reported that the median house in town was worth about $140,000.

Above the median, house hunters could find a four-bedroom Rosedale Road house on over two acres at $192,000. A Battle Road colonial was offered at $230,000.

Local savings banks were offering a one-year C.D. rate of 6¼ percent. Investors willing to commit until 1986 could receive eight percent.

Employment opportunities included a secretarial position requiring shorthand with a full benefits package and a $6,328 salary.

Star Wors was packing the theaters.

Five Years Ago

Borough Council was arguing over air rights for Collins' Nassau Inn expansion over Palmer Square East.

The University announced plans to shift the Nassau Street campus entrance to the other side of Nassau Presbyterian Church and agreed to pay for a new traffic light at University Place and Alexander Street.

A four-bedroom cape was offered at $116,000 and a five-bedroom Riverside colonial was $229,000.

At the movies Stor Wors returned with Return of the Jedi, and Superman was back with Superman III.

Safety Precautions For "Back-to-School Driving"

The Automobile Club of Central New Jersey has launched its "School's Open" campaign, which is designed to remind drivers to be extra alert for children heading toward school.

Motorists are urged to take seriously the "School's Open-Drive carefully"slogan — seen on strategically located posters — and be especially careful when the following situations are encountered:

Reductions in speed limits in school zones...crossing guards and safety patrols helping students cross steets...children on bicycles... children crossing unguarded streets...children walking on roadways...youngsters darting out from between parked cars... toddlers on their way to school for the first time... parents stopping to let children off in front of schools...school buses stopped to load or unload pupils.

Don't Pass

Drivers are reminded that it is illegal to pass a school bus stopped to load or unload students. The law applies whether a vehicle is approaching the front or rear of a bus. Only vehicles approaching a school bus from the opposite direction on a dual-lane roadway may proceed if there is a median strip or similar barrier between the bus and the vehicle.

All vehicles should remain stopped a safe distance from the bus until it moves on and motorists are certain all children have crossed the street safely.

Parents who drive their youngsters to school should let them off directly in front of the school rather than on the street or on a less congested side street next to the school.

the event, The Mercer County Park Commission.

Fine Plowing will begin at 10 when teamsters hook their horses to walking plows and test their skills against the judging of Elmer Lapp of Kinzers, Pa. Besides winning $100 and a blue ribbon, the winner has his or her name entered on the Ben Ellingson Memorial Award, in recognition of the contribution that American farmers are making in international agriculture.

Mr. Ellingson was a Tennessee farmer and rancher who encouraged the United States Peace Corps to study "living history" farms like Howell as a source of information and ideas for its small farm technology programs. The award will be presented by Pete Watson, the farm's administrator, who formerly worked with Mr. Ellingson.

Visitors who wish to compete in the 11 a.m. Novice Plowing Class will be coached and judged by Nick Kulibaba of Washington, D.C., a returned Peace Corps volunteer who taught ox-powered plowing methods in Togo, West Africa. "Old-timers" can show their stuff, too, when Jack Gray of Pennington judges them in a special class held at 11:30 a.m.

Obstacle Course Driving, in which teamsters guide a pair of work horses and a wagon through a series of turns, stream crossings and parking operations will begin at 1. It will be followed by a big-hitch exhibition, where six horses are used to pull a road grader.

Howell Farm is located on Valley Road off Route 29 two miles south of Lambertville. Rain date for the event is Saturday, September 10.

Meeting Place for Women Will Open September 13

A new weekly meeting place for women, A Woman's Place, will open Tuesday, September 13, at the Arts Council building, 102 Witherspoon Street. It will focus on women's art, music, literature, theater and dance, and will include the activities of The Women's Coffeehouse. Hours will be Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10.

Opening night will feature music performed by Melanie Burrough, singer, songwriter and guitarist, and poetry readings. Dessert, tea and coffee will be served. Newcomers are especially welcome.

Each Tuesday evening will feature a different activity. The first Tuesday of the month will focus on informal conversation, with topics of interest to contemporary women. Second Tuesdays are coffeehouse nights, highlighting area artists. Dessert and coffee are served on coffeehouse nights, and books of interest to women, from The Book Gallery in New Hope, will be available for purchase.

Other Tuesdays will feature book discussions and "Our Own Work," which will offer area women an opportunity to share their writing, art or music.

Calendars of events and further information are available at the Arts Council, at 924-8777.

The Focus Is on Mars At Museum Planetarium

The New Jersey State Museum Planetarium will feature special free "Mars Night" programs and a mini-course examining the myth and reality of Earth's neighboring planet.

The educational activities are designed to emphasize the astronomical occurrence of the planet Mars' closest proximity to Earth in nearly two decades and coincide with the 50th anniversary of the "War of the Worlds" radio broadcast. That celebrated program created by actor/director Orson Welles recounted a fictional attack from Mars at Grovers Mills.

The Thursday planetarium program, "Men, Martians and Machines," provides both a look at Mars and at images created by science fiction authors. It will be followed by a visit to the Museum's rooftop observatory for telescope observation. The programs will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., September 15, 22, and 29, and October 6.

On Friday, September 16, public observing sessions of Mars and other planets will begin. Participants will meet at the State Museum Planetarium for a short presentation, then drive to the Amateur Astronomers Association of Princeton Observatory at Washington Crossing State Park. In case of poor weather, a planetarium show will be presented. Sessions will run from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and continue on September 23 and 30 and October 7.

"The Romance of Mars," an astronomy course conducted by senior museum technician Ken Mailloux, will be offered on four Tuesday evenings beginning October 11. The program is designed for families with children over 12, and highlights the facts and fiction concerning the atmosphere and terrain of the planet.

Enrollment is limited to 50. There is a fee of $10 per person ($8 for Museum Friends members and children under 15). Programs are from 7:30 to 9:30 October 11, 18, and 25, and November 1. For more details, call 292-6333.

The State Museum, a division of the Department of State, is located at 205 West State Street, Trenton. Closed Mondays and State holidays, it is open Tuesday through Saturday, 9 to 4:45 p.m., and Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m. Ample free parking is available weekends behind the planetarium and admission is free.

"The Alcoholic Family" Is Carrier Lecture Topic

"The Alcoholic Family: Adult Children of Alcoholics" will be the topic of the Thursday, September 8, lecture at Carrier Foundation. The free lecture will be held from noon to 1 p.m. in the Atkinson Amphitheater.

Peter J. Steinglass, M.D., professor of psychiatry at George Washington University Medical Center in Washington, D.C., will be the speaker. For more information call (201) 874-4000, extension 4461.

Renovated House Ready For Hopewell Church Use

Construction has been completed at the historic Philips House, a two-family home owned by the Hopewell Presbyterian Church at 86-88 West Broad Street, Hopewell.

The total cost of the renovation was $140,000, and the bills, according to church leaders, have been paid with gifts from church members. Renovations on the property included a new roof and chimneys, new furnaces, new wiring, refinished floors, a concrete floor in the basement, and a general shoring up of the structure. Ehret Construction Company, of Ewing, oversaw the renovations, which were part of a $225,000 improvement campaign undertaken by the church.

During renovation, workers discovered that parts of the house were much older than expected. Portions of 86 West Broad Street appear to have been built in the pre-Revolutionary War era.

According to the church's pastor, the Rev. Dr. Douglas J. Brouwer, one side of the property is already occupied by a family from Princeton Seminary. David Joynt, who is completing Ph.D. studies at the seminary, and his wife, Julia, will contribute their services to the church in the next year in exchange for housing.

The other side of the property is currently being readied as a Youth House, a place for the youth of the church to hold meetings and have Sunday school classes. Community groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous and Parents Anonymous will also use the space.

An open house is being planned for October.

Bulletin Notes

Adult education classes this fall at Princeton Attiance Church will include an 11-week series on handicapped children arranged by Lois G. McIntyre, a children's writer and professional story teller. The series, entitled "You Are Loved," will be held from 9:45 to 10:45 on Sunday mornings, starting September 11, at Princeton High School and will include a succession of guest speakers.

The fall adult education classes will also include a course by Stuart Palmer, the church's director of counseling, on "A Better Life for You: Putting Away Childish Things," a Bible class for married couples in their 20's and 30's, and a class led by David Strohl of East Windsor which will examine the foundations of the Christian faith.

Nursery care is provided. Further information is available from the church office at 50 Princeton-Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction, 799-9000.

Prioceton Presbyterian Church is offering adult Sunday School classes beginning Sunday, September 11.

Pastor Kenneth A. Smith's Pastor's Class entitled "What Do You Believe" is designed to help participants develop a clear understanding of their faith. "Through The Bible" is another class designed to help participants become familiar with the major concepts of the Scripture. Classes begin at 9:30, with refreshments at 10:30 and worship at 11.

For those who are visiting the church for the first time, or would like more information about Princeton Presbyterian Church, there will be a visitor's class immediately following the 11 a.m. worship service. The church meets in John Witherspoon Middle School.

For more information call the church office at 921-1020.

The Lutheran Church of the Messiah will hold a Holy Communion service Sunday at 9:30 as the last service during the summer worship time. On Sunday, September 11, worship will return to 10:30 and Bible class for all ages will be at 9 a.m. For more information call Pastor John M. Goerss at 924-3642.

Princeton Theological Seminary will begin its 177th academic year Sunday, September 18, with the opening convocation service in Miller Chapel. Dr. Alan Maker, minister of St. Columba's Presbyterian Church in Johannesburg, South Africa, will speak on the topic "Parish Ministry in Times of Political Conflict."

The native South African pastor will address the seminary's entering class of 246 students aod their faculty. The class includes 152 men and women studying for the master of divinity degree, the basic professional degree for ministry, and 22 students entering the Ph.D. program, the seminary's highest academic degree.

Dr. Maker served his denomination, the Presbyterian Church of South Africa, as moderator of its General Assembly in 1984, the youngest person ever to hold that position. He is active as a speaker in South Africa and has given lectures on business ethics and stress management.

The seminary's opening service of Holy Communion will take place on Monday, September 19, at 11. Dr. Thomas Long, associate professor of preaching at Princeton, will deliver the sermon.

The Blawenburg Reformed Church, Route 518, in Montgomery Township will hold its annual Roast Beef Dinner on Saturday, September 24. Seatings will be at 5, 6, and 7 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Tickets are $7.25 for adults, $4 for children under 12, and free for children under 5. The family-style dinner includes tomato juice cocktail, roast beef, masbed potatoes, gravy, peas, harvard beets, pepper bash, rolls, butter, coffee, and homemade apple pie.

The summer series of 10 a.m. services in the Princeton University Chapel will conclude this Sunday with the Rev. Prathia H. Wynn as guest preacher. A native of Philadelphia and an alumna of Temple University and Princeton Theological Seminary; Ms. Wynn is minister of the Mt. Sharon Baptist Church in Philadelphia and a doctoral candidate in the Department of Church aod Society.

OBITUARIES

Charles M. Franklin, 76, former physican for the Princeton University football team, died August 23 at the Medical Center of Ocean County in Point Pleasant.

Born in Hightstown, Dr. Franklin was a resident of Vero Beach, Fla., and Mantoloking. He had previously lived in Princeton and Sea Girt. An alumnus of the Peddie School in Hightstown, he graduated from Princeton University in 1933 and from the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine in 1937.

In 1939, after serving as resident physician of Trenton Psychiatric Hospital, Dr. Franklin began his career at Princeton University as the assistant physician and professor of health and physical education. He was the physician for the hockey team and for the freshman football team before being appointed as physician to the varsity football team.

He was made a University officer in 1968 and retired in 1971. Dr. Franklin was the recipient of the Golden Merit Award from the Medical Society of New Jersey.

An avid boating enthusiast, he was a charter member of the Barnegat Bay Power Squadron, a member of the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association, the Bay Head Yacht Club, and Kollegewidgwok Yacht Club in Blue Hill, Maine. He was also a member of the Blue Hill Country Club and the Nassau Club of Princeton.

Husband of the late Martha Lowry Franklin, he is survived by his wife, Dorothy C. Franklin; a son, C. Montanye Franklin III of Timonium, Md.; a granddaughter, Kelsey E. Franklin, also of Timonium; a stepson, Donald A. Pickering Jr. of New York City; and a stepdaughter, Dorothy P. Bossidy of New York City.

A memorial service will be held Tuesday at 10 at All Saints' Episcopal Church, Bay Head. Burial in Princeton Cemetery will be private. Arrangements are under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Medical Center of Ocean County, Point Pleasant 08742.

George N. Dey, 70, former Dinky conductor known as "Buster" to hundreds of commuters, died August 22 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Lambertville, son of a railroad fireman, Mr. Dey lived in Rocky Hill for the past 48 years. He retired in 1979 after 37 years as a conductor with Conrail, 26 of them on the Dinky shuttle between Princeton and Princeton Junction. Mr. Dey and his partner, John Bancroft, were known for the personal service they performed for commuters and the good-natured bantering with which they enlivened the daily run.

He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Charles of Borromeo Church. He was also a member of the Montgomery Senior Citizens, the Somerset County Golf League and the United Transportation Union Retiree Club.

Surviving are his wife, Nellie Lopatka Dey; three daughters, Georgiana Mazzella of Rocky Hill, Gloria H. Tylutki of Manalapan, and Patricia A. Rieszer of Yardville; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; and his mother, Anna M. Dey of Princeton.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. James Church, Rocky Hitl, a mission of St. Charles of Borromeo. Burial was in Rocky Hill Cemetery.

———

Estelle V. Forschner, 49, of Lawrenceville, died August 26 at the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Danville, Va., Mrs. Forschner had lived in Neshanic before moving to Lawrenceville five years ago. She was a graduate of the Katherine Gibbs School in Montclair and attended Rutgers University, where she was also a secretarial assistant.

Survivors include her husband, Robert E. Forschner Jr., and her parents, Thomas and Estelle Behan of Somerset; and a godchild, Kimberly Guidone of Chester.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, Lawrenceville, with burial in Highland Cemtery, Hopewell. Memorial contributions may be made to the Katherine Gibbs School, Montclair.

———

John Malarczyk, 74, of Lawrenceville, died August 3 at the Medical Center.

Born in Trenton, Mr. Malarczyk had lived in the area all his life and was retired from Consumers Oil of Trenton. He was an Army veteran of World War II.

Husband of the late Irene C. Malarczyk, he is survived by a son, Joseph J. of Lawrenceville; two sisters, Stella Roman of Barnegat and Marian McGarrett of Midera Beach, Fla; and two grandchildren.

The service was private.

Eileen B. Saums, Allied Member A.S.I.D. speaks on Some Ideas for a Guest Room.

Your guest room, in order to live up to the meaning of the words, should not only be bright and cheerful, but should be, as much as possible, a complete room in itself.

Does it really contain all the conveniences which you would want and enjoy if you were a guest in someone's home?

Of utmost importence — and often neglected — is drawer space. Perhaps you could add a good chest of drawers for this room.

Meantime, don't use your guest room as a "catch-all" room for furniture not needed in the rest of your home. Furnish it so it's properly coordinated. Besides the right furniture, you can add a nice touch by having flowers and magazines in the room when guests are expected.

And, here's a good idea. Consider using the room yourself for any number of things for when you don't have guests. With the proper planning, this is like giving yourself an extra room.

Considering fixing up your guest room for the Holidays? Start NOW! Come and see us and we'll help you coordinate the entire room. Stop in and browse. There's no obligation. You are welcome. We'll look forward to seeing you.

Clowning, Juggling Act At the Waldorf School

"Fool Moon Rising," David-Michael Monasch's clowning and juggling act, will be presented on Friday, September 9, and Saturday, September 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the Waldorf School of Princeton, 285 Rosedale Road.

Mr. Monasch has a BFA in directing and acting and a eurythmy diplome from the Goetheanum, Switzerland. As juggler-clown, "Fool Moon Rising" and under the title "Schaumusel," he has performed since 1974 for adults and children in schools, colleges, businesses and hospitals in America, England, Germany, Switzerland and Norway. His colorful, many-sided program, integrating mime, juggling, clowning and music, develops spontaneously as he brings the children into the act.

During the day, Saturday, September 10, he will offer a workshop for a limited number of participants (ages 12 and older). The fee is $30. Call 924-0553 if interested.

The performances on Friday and Saturday evenings are open to children and adults of all ages. Tickets are $10 per family if purchased in advance by sending a check, payable to the Waldorf School of Princeton, to Lynn Schloss, 158 Springdale Road, or calling 924-0553.

Tickets will be sent for checks received by September 6; tickets ordered later will be held at the door. Family tickets will also be available at Allen's Children's Store. At the door, tickets are $5 per adult and $3 per child.

For those interested in information about the Waldorf School, call 466-1970. A few openings still remain in grades one through five for the 1988-89 school year.

Open House September 11 Set by McCarter Theatre

McCarter Theatre will hold its eighth annual Open House Sunday, September 11, from 1 to 4. There will be light and sound shows, tours of the backstage area and demonstrations by the Princeton Ballet Society.

For children ages 7 to 12 the festivities will include an opportunity to sign up to audition for a role in McCarter's interracial holiday production of A Christmas Carol. This year's production will be directed by Associate Artistic Director Rob Lanchester.

Guests at the open house can learn how to get involved by becoming a volunteer or McCarter Associate. Registration will also be available for McCarter's Training Wing, offering classes in playwriting, acting and stage combat.

The open house also offers the opportunity to get more information on the 1988-89 drama season which will include two comedies, Born Yesterday and Tartuffe, the musical comedy, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, Sarcophagus, a dramatic account of the Chernobyl nuclear power station accident, and one play to be announced. The box office will be open for purchase of tickets and refreshments will be available.

For more information, call 683-9100, Monday through Friday, 10 to 6. McCarter Theatre's box office will open September 6 for the 1988-89 season.

funniest it has ever produced.

In celebration of his 10th season as artistic director, Nagle Jackson has chosen three classic comedies, including a musical comedy, to fill three of the five slots in the drama series. The comedies include Garson Kanin's Born Yesterday, which runs September 27 through October 16; Moliere's Tartuffe, November 1 through 20; and Stephen Sondheim's musical A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum.

The other two slots will be filled by Sarcophagus, the Soviet drama about Chernobyl, which McCarter characterizes as "a play that could not have been written before glasnost, and one play "to be announced." Sarcophagus runs February 7 through 26, and the to-be-announced play March 28 through April 16.

McCarter has also been accorded special recognition by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts as a "Regional Center of Artistic Excellence" and a grant for $1 million to establish its own professional resident company. The company's seven actors will play a role in all five plays.

McCarter is also bringing Rick Risso, a West coast actor and director, back to McCarter for two shows. Mr. Risso played Arnolphe in School for Wives and Captain Ahab in the 1980 production of Moby Dick, Rehearsed. He will direct Born Yesterday and play the title role in Tartuffe.

Subscribers save up to 33 percent on single tickets and also receive preferred seating. They are entitled to lectures and seminars with the acting company, services of the bar, and a 20 percent discount on tickets to Stage Two. Subscriptions are now on sale and may be ordered by calling 683-8900, noon to 6 weekdays.

THE GIVE AND TAKE JUGGLERS will be part of the children's entertainment offered this fall at Mercer County Community College's Kelsey Theater. Events range from a show on dinosaurs to the showing of a Disney film. Subscriptions are on sale through Tuesday. For more information call 586-4695.

Subscriptions Available For Children's Theater

Mercer County Community College's Kelsey Theater is conducting a subscription drive for its fall children's series.

The season will begin with "Dinosaur Days" on Saturday, September 10. Slim Goodbody will host a show of song and dance about dinosaurs, using large puppets, vivid sets and delightful costumes.

The "Give and Take Jugglers" will perform on Saturday, October 1. Their humor and derring-do have warmed up audiences for comics Henny Youngman and Harry Anderson. The Prince Street Players will present a musical version of Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland on Saturday, October 29, and the Mercer Children's Theater will perform Androcles and the Lion November 19 and 20. This musical, an adaptation of George Bernard Shaw's insightful fable, demonstrates how kindness and caring can overcome apparently impossible odds. .

The series concludes with the Disney film Lady and the Tramp on December 17. This is the romantic story of a pedigreed pooch who teams up with a mutt from the wrong side of the tracks.

The five-show series is available to subscribers for $19. Subscription sales will end on September 6.

For more information, call 586-4800, extension 581, weekdays between 8 and 3.

'The Odd Couple' Next At Bucks Playhouse

Kaye Ballard and Sandy Dennis co-star in Neil Simon's The Odd Couple which plays at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope from Wednesday, September 7, through Sunday, September 25.

One of Simon's funniest comedies, The Odd Couple is about two women who share a Manhattan apartment when their marriages don't work out. Sandy Dennis, who plays the exceptionally tidy Florence Unger, received an Oscar for Best Supporting Actress as Honey in Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? Other film credits include Up the Down Staircase, Splendor in the Grass and Come Back to the Five and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean.

She has received two Tony Awards for her Broadway performances in A Thousand Clowns and Any Wednesday. Other Broadway credits include The Complaisant Lover, Dork at the Top of the Stairs, Face of a Hero and How the Other Half Loves. On television, Ms. Dennis appeared in The Perfect Gentlemen with Lauren Bacall and Ruth Gordon and recently starred in NBC's The Execution.

Kaye Ballard, who plays Olive Madison, has maintained a career through virtually every existing form of show business, including burlesque, vaudeville, Broadway, off-Broadway, nightclubs, radio, television and records. She starred in the Broadway musical, The Golden Apple, and her other stage hits include Carnival, Cole Porter Revisited, The Pirates of Penzonce and Nunsense, for which she received the 1987 Carbonell Award for Best Actress in a Musical.

Ms. Ballard was also seen off-Broadway in her own autobiographical one-woman show, Hey, Ma...Kaye Ballard, which received both a Drama Desk and an Outer Critics' Circle nomination. She has been on the television series The Mothers-in-Law and comes to the Odd Couple directly from her New York hit, Kaye Ballard Working 42nd Street At Last!

For performance schedules and ticket prices call the box office at (215) 862-2046. For theater party information, call Teri Reagan, group sales, at (215) 862-2046. Odd Couple follows Little Shop of Horrors, a musical comedy about Audrey II, a man-eating plant, which plays through Sunday.

Modern Dance Company To Perform at Kelsey

The Rebecca Kelly Dance Company will present an evening of modern dance on Friday, September 16 at 8 in Kelsey Theater on Mercer County Community College's West Windsor Campus.

The New York-based company is recognized for distinctive programs featuring contemporary dances that tell their own stories. The troupe will present its newest work, Chiaroscuro (Light and Dark), blending Kelly's own ballet-modern technique with Canteloube's folk melodies.

The company will also perform Tenderness of Wolves, which recently premiered at the Joyce Theater in New York. Set to a collage of music, broadcast news and environmental sounds, the work portrays an uneasy urban relationship. The evening will finish with Moving Violations, a fast and funny piece, and American Landscape, which recalls the idealism of the 60s.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for students and senior citizens and $6 for children 12 and under. For more information or to order tickets by phone, call the 24-hour Kelsey Information Hotline at 586-4695. Mastercard and Visa accepted.

Auditions Are Scheduled For Villagers Production

The Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre will hold auditions for Noises Off, a British comedy by Michael Frayn, on Wednesday and Thursday, September 7 and 8, starting at 7:30.

Auditions will be held at the Franklin Township Department of Parks and Recreation headquarters located in the Phillips School on Route 27 in Franklin Park. Auditions are by appointment only. Auditioners may schedule appointments by calling the Villagers at (201) 873-2710.

Noises Off is about a fledgling theatre troupe whose survival is teetering on the success or failure of the personal relationships developing within the company. Michael Frayn's clever play-within-a-play script gives the audience a rare look at how what goes on backstage affects what happens on-stage.

Noises Off will be presented at the newly renovated Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre, behind the municipal complex at 475 DeMott Lane in Somerset, weekends from November 4 through 26. Performances are on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 and Sundays at 7:30 p.m., except Sunday, November 13, which will be a 2 p.m. matinee only.

Director Mary McGinley is looking for three women ages 20 to 40, four men ages 20 to 40, a character actress age 45 plus and a character actor age 55 plus. A facility with a British accent is helpful.

Auditioners are asked to present a short comic monologue. Rehearsals will start the week of September 19 and will be held on three weeknights and one weekend day each week.

RETURNING VIOLINIST: Edith Roberts, an 11th grader at Princeton Day School, is a member of the Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra. Auditions for new and returning members will be held the week of September 12. Story next page.

String Prep. Orchestra Invites New Players

Auditions will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 18, 19 and 20, for the 1988-89 season of the Greater Princeton Youth String Preparatory Orchestra.

Conducted by John Enz, the String Preparatory Orchestra prepares children to move on to the Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra, a high school and college performing orchestra conducted by Mark Laycock. Made up of some 50 student members, the String Preparatory Orchestra meets for weekly rehearsals on Thursday evenings and will give two Sunday afternoon performances, January 29 and May 14.

The orchestra has openings for qualified string players in grades three through nine. Viola, cello and bass students are especially needed. Auditions, rehearsals and performances will be on the campus of Westminster Choir College.

For information and an audition appointment, call Holly Clemans, manager, at 737-1866.

STRING PLAYERS INVITED: The String Preparatory Orchestra, which prepares young string players for the Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra, seeks new members. The conductor is John Enz, shown here with Jessica Godfrey and Charles Park.

Westminster Conservatory Is Now at Two Locations

Westminster Conservatory, the community music school of Westminster Choir College, will begin its fall semester Wednesday, September 14. In addition to the Princeton location, a new extension has been established at Our Lady of Sorrows School, East State Street Extension, Mercerville. The Mercerville extension will offer classes and lessons Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The Conservatory offers private and group instruction to people of all ages and levels of advancement. Private lessons in most instruments including brass, woodwinds, strings, piano, harp, organ and harpsichord and voice are offered for children and adults.

Accompanying musicianship classes which cover ear training, sight reading and theory are an integral part of the program. Other classes include music literature, jazz piano, opera appreciation, piano literature, chamber music, community orchestra and voice class for adults. For younger children there is Music Together, Kindermusik, Suzuki piano and strings and vocal training for young singers.

For more information call the Conservatory main office at 921-7104 or the Mercerville office at 584-1825.

Auditions Are Planned For Youth Orchestra

New and former members of the Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra will audition the week of September 12 at Westminster Choir College.

Under the direction of Mark Laycock, music director, rehearsals will be at Princeton Day School and Westminster Choir College. The orchestra will make its debut in Carnegie Hall at the New Jersey Youth Orchestra Festival, along with the New Jersey Youth Symphony and the Bergen Youth Orchestra, on January 14, 1989, at 3 p.m.

Other GPYO concerts will take place on December 9 at Rider College and March 31 and May 20 in Richardson Auditorium.

For an audition appointment or further information, call 737-1962 or 683-0777.

Auditions Announced For "The New Moon"

The Trenton Civic Opera Company will hold auditions for Sigmund Romberg's The New Moon on Thursday, September 8, and Sunday, September 11, at 7:30 p.m. at Artists Showcase Theatre, 1150 Indiana Avenue, Trenton (near the Brunswick Circle on Alternate Route 1).

Auditioners should prepare a song from the operetta, such as "One Kiss," "Wanting You," "Lover, Come Back to Me," "Softly as in a Morning Sunrise," or "Stout-hearted Men."

The New Moon will be presented in the War Memorial Theatre on November 13. If further information is needed, call 737-2980.

Trenton State to Host Juried Photography Show

Entries for the Eleventh Annual Mercer County Photography Exhibition will be accepted at Trenton State College's Holman Art Gallery during the week of September 11.

Open to anyone over age 18 who lives, works or attends school in Mercer County, the show includes a $200 Best in Show Purchase Award and a minimum of $500 in other purchase awards. Photographers may submit up to three photographs in color or black and white. There is a $10 entry fee per photographer and all photographs in the show will be insured.

Henry Troup, a nationally known photographic exhibitor, will be juror for the show. A resident of Harrisburg, Pa., he has been published in Ansel Adams' book on Polaroid photography.

The Mercer Photography Exhibition will open to the public on Wednesday October 5, with a reception from 7 to 9 p.m. Sponsored by the Trenton State art department, the show is funded in part by the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission. For information and a prospectus call, 771-2652.

Seminary Brings Potter As Artist-in-Residence

Sasha Makovkin, a professional potter from Mendocino, Calif., will become Princeton Theological Seminary's first "artist-in-residence" when he arrives in Princeton in September. He and his wife, Susan, a singer and potter, will live on the Princeton campus through December and offer workshops and lectures on art and theology.

Mr. Makovkin, who has spent several years studying the biblical images of clay as expressions of theological ideas, describes the Creator God as "a master potter, who fashioned humans from common clay and then breathed into them the breath of life. This powerful metaphor describes the unique relationship between God and humanity."

Mr. Makovkin holds a master's degree in theology from New College, Berkeley, and is a full-time artist. His pieces have been shown in many museums and galleries, including the DeYoung Museum in San Francisco and the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C. He designed and sculpted a mural for the chapel of Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash., and conducted a workshop at the World Alliance of Reformed Churches meeting in Ottawa, Canada.

During their four months in Princeton, the Makovkins will be available to churches and community groups for one-day, evening or weekend workshops or lectures. They work with a small, portable potter's wheel that is easily transportable. For further information, or to engage the Makovkins, call the Office of the President, 921-8698.

Team with Best Defense Usually Wins Ivy Football Title, And Princeton's Has Potential to Become Tops in League

(This is the second in a series of three pre-season articles about the 1988 Princeton football team.)

Why did the Princeton football team finish 6-4 last year, equalling its best record since 1980?

It's obvious, you say. The Garrett brothers, Jason, Judd and John, passed, ran and caught for 21 of the Tigers' 28 touchdowns. There's no denying that talented trio did much to turn the team's fortunes around, but equal credit must go to the defense.

Despite the rash of injuries that plagued that unit week after week, the defense allowed just 155 points in 10 games. In half of those contests it held the opponent to a touchdown or less. Not surprisingly, the last time the Orange and Black gave up less than 200 points in a season was 1980 (198).

THIS IS WHAT'S NEEDED TO WIN: Three Princeton players combine to sack Harvard's Tom Yohe in the fourth quarter of last year's game in Cambridge. Yohe, however, came out on top for the afternoon, leading the Crimson to a 24-19 victory.

SPORTS

A good offense is exciting to watch, but a good defense wins more football games. Princeton's two quarterbacks who passed for the most career yardage, Doug Butler, '86, and Ron Beible, '76, never played on a winning team.

Harvard led the league in total defense last year, and was only third in total offense, but won the Ivy title on the last Saturday of the season when it limited Yale, the Ivies' top offensive team, to just 10 points.

Over the years, a stout defense has provided more success for teams in the battle for the league title than a high-powered offense. In 24 of the 32 years since league play was formalized in 1956, the team allowing the fewest points won or shared the title.

The last time the Tigers claimed it — 1969 — they gave up just 138 points in nine games (74 in league play). They have never come close to that total since. Dick Coleman's undefeated team of 1964 gave up a minuscule 53 points in nine games, less than six per contest. It recorded four successive shutouts on the way to its 9-0 mark.

Cain Led the Way. The top defensive player on last year's team, Dean Cain, has graduated. He was second on the team in tackles with 82, plus he intercepted a record-breaking 12 passes. Five other 1987 starters, end Bart Stoehr, linebackers Pete Milano and Matt Whalen, and defensive backs Sean Brennan and Wit Hall have also departed.

However there is plenty of talent in the five who return. Rob Vanden Noven, Kevin Lynch and Rick Emery give the Tigers three-fourths of their line back. Franco Pagnanelli, who led the team in tackles (83), as a sophomore linebacker, has the ability to become all-Ivy as a junior. And cornerback Frank Leal was the next best in the secondary, after Cain, in his first year of varsity competition.

Following is a position-by-position assessment of the defense:

Defensive End: Rick Emery (6'4, 235) wasted no time nailing down a starting spot as a sophomore, and wound up leading the team in quarterback sacks with 11. A three-way battle for the other end spot, vacated by Bart Stoehr, will be waged by seniors Rob Walker (6'4, 255), Owen Davies (6'6, 215) and Kurt Hovan (6'3, 240). Renard Charity (6'4, 225) is a sophomore to watch.

Defensive Tackle: There is plenty of strength at tackle, where a pair of senior starters returns. Kevin Lynch (6'1, 260) and Rob Vanden Noven (6'2, 245) both missed some games a year ago with early season injuries or sickness, but took charge of the position later on. There is good depth behind them in Rob Garbutt (6'3, 240), Bruce Work (6'3, 235) and Steve Hillegist (6'2, 230), all of whom made contributions at one time or another. The tackle spot will be bolstered even more with the return of Rob Henricks, whose junior season was ended by a broken leg in the Davidson game.

Linebackers: This is one of the areas where injuries hit hardest last season, and starters Matt Whalen, also last year's captain, and Pete Milano must be replaced. The one holdover, however, has all-league talent. Franco Pagnanelli (6'0, 240) missed one game, but still led the team in tackles with 83 as a sophomore.

Tigers Scrimmage Sept. 9

For the first time ever Princeton will face off against another Ivy team in its pre-season scrimmage.

Dartmouth will be the opponent on Friday afternoon, September 9, at the Taft School, Watertown, Conn., which is about halfway between the two schools. The Tigers and Big Green do not meet in the regular season until the final game in November.

Because so many college teams now start their seasons before the Ivies, it has been difficult to find a suitable opponent for a scrimmage. Delaware State was a good match last year, but unavailable this fall. A Division II or III school could have been scheduled, but those often are unable to give the Orange and Black much of a challenge.

Harvard and Brown, which also do not meet until late in the season, have scrimmaged against each other the past few years.

Here's one that may surprise you ... Who was the first commissioner of the National Football League? ... The first NFL commissioner was a man who had been part of one of football's most famous backfields — the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame ... The first NFL commissioner was Elmer Layden who was the fullback for the Four Horsemen.

Here's a good question for you: If you were disabled, who would continue to pay your salary?
• Your employer?
• Social Security?
• You?

Here's an oddity from the National Football League ... None of the teams that had the top passer, top receiver, top rusher or top kicker in the NFL last season made the Super Bowl ... The top-rated passer in the league was Joe Montana of San Francisco, the top rusher was Charles White of the Los Angeles Rams, the top receiver was J.T. Smith of St. Louis and the top kicker was Morton Anderson of New Orleans ... But Washington and Denver made the Super Bowl!

The longest jinx in football history lasted an amazing 68 years ... It was the Rutgers-Princeton jinx ... Princeton beat Rutgers in 1870 — and then Princeton won every football game against Rutgers until 1938 ... In November, 1938 Rutgers finally beat Princeton to end that 68-year-old jinx.

Do You Often Quickly Regain Weight You Have Lost?

You might be surprised to learn that on the average less than ten percent of all dieters maintain their weight loss for three years. This is due to the fact most dieters are treating the symptoms of being overweight instead of working to alleviate the underlying problem.

At Diet Center we enjoy a much higher level of long-term success than the national average. The reason? We teach you how to adapt your lifestyle to ensure that the weight you lose with us never returns. Call today and find out how Diet Center can help you lose weight and keep it off forever.

If Ray Ryan (6'1, 225) can stay healthy, he should step into the middle linebacker job. The weakside position is open, and one of two juniors, Bob Spenik (6'1, 220) or Gary Kempinski (6'2, 220) should claim it. Both saw action last fall, before they were injured. Kirk Stillmak (6'0, 207), a converted fullback, and Craig Yates (6'3, 242), who sat out last season, are outside linebacker candidates.

Cornerbacks: Junior Frank Leal (6'0, 190) is the lone returnee among the starters in the secondary, but he had a distinguished sophomore campaign that included three interceptions and all-Ivy honorable mention. The other cornerback spot will be up for grabs between senior Derek Schrier (6'0, 185), and a pair of juniors, Greg Burton (5'11, 185) and Brian Wietharn (6'0, 193). Both were running backs on the 1986 freshman team.

Safeties: It won't be easy replacing Dean Cain, a Division I-AA all-America choice, and perhaps the best free safety in Princeton's history. However, there is already talk of the heir apparent, sophomore Mike Hirou (6'0, 190). The California product, who graduated from the same high school as Doug Butler, won the "Pink" Baker award last season as the best defensive player on the freshman team. Vince Avallone, a 5'10, 175-lb junior made a name for himself in just one half in the season finale against Cornell, intercepting two passes and returning one 52 yards for a touchdown. He'll get a shot at one of the safety positions, as will Derek Wright (6'0, 210).

Kickers: No one has had to worry about place kicking duties the last three years with Rob Goodwin around, but the first team all-Ivy kicker has now graduated. He missed just one extra point in 25 tries, and was a perfect 10 for 10 in field goals, including the last-second game-winner against Lehigh. Junior Jeff Hyde (6'2, 175), and sophomore Chris Lutz (5'11, 205) will vie to replace Goodwin. Both held the job on their respective freshman squads.

Punter Scott Sellers (6'4, 205) was handed the job as a sophomore and managed 31.5 yards per kick. Tosches would love to see some improvement from him this fall, or look for a replacement.

The defense has to rise a notch this fall to the point where it can contain a good offense. The Tigers weren't beaten by any average teams last fall, but they sure had trouble with the better ones. Opposing quarterbacks such as Harvard's Tom Yohe and Yale's Kelly Ryan both had good days against Princeton. Only the 13-7 loss to Brown can be attributed to a lack of offense.

The Garretts will keep the offense functioning smoothly, but it's uncertain whether the performance of that unit will improve over a year ago. The offensive line and wide receivers are question marks.

The defense appears to have a better chance of raising its level of play to enable Princeton to contend seriously for the Ivy title.

—Jeb Stuart

PU Crew Off to Australia

Many students have complained about the late start to the academic calendar at Princeton University this fall (classes don't begin until September 19), but members of the heavyweight crew don't mind at all.

They'll be leaving for Brisbane, Australia, this Sunday to participate in a series of races to help celebrate the country's 200th birthday. Two other American crews, MIT and UCLA, will make the trip, as well as shells representing England's Oxford, Cambridge, Japan, and nearby New Zealand.

It's a pleasant, low-key start for new head coach Gary Kilpatrick, who has moved up from lightweight coach to replace the departed Larry Gluckman. And the two-week trip will still get the crew members back a week before registration.

Vollherbst Hoping to Bring Little Tigers Back To Success They Enjoyed during His First Year

In just two seasons, Princeton High football coach Kurt Vollherbst has experienced it all.

Two years ago, as the new head coach, Vollherbst grabbed the brass ring his first time around. He surprised many, including himself, he acknowledged, when he guided the Little Tigers to seven victories in their first eight games. PHS captured the Valley Division of the Colonial Valley Conference for its first outright CVC title and went on to compete in the State Group 3 playoffs. Those accomplishments earned the then 38-year-old Vollherbst Coach of the Year honors in Mercer County.

Last year was the flip side. The Little Tigers were shut out in their opening game and finished with a disappointing 3-5-1 record. Including a 62-13 rout at the hands of undefeated Notre Dame and a 32-0 shut-out by Trenton High in its finale, PHS was outscored 123 to 19 in its final three games.

Moreover, Vollherbst had to contend with some dissatisfaction and disruption on the part of a few players. In short, the past two years were in sharp contrast to one another.

Which brings us to the present. What is the 1988 outlook for the the Little Tigers? Can they come back and regain some of the success and the joy of two years ago? Does Vollherbst, confronted with an ever-shrinking school population, have the numbers?

"We're going to be a better football team this year," stated Vollherbst, commenting on his 39-member squad which includes 21 juniors. "I don't think there's any question.

"We've got a lot more people who have the ability to play for us than we ever had. Normally, we have used 12 to 15 players; this year we feel we have in the area of 20. So we've got the numbers who can play and who are interested in playing. A lot of kids want to do it; their attitude is excellent."

Though stating he was happy with the team spirit, Vollherbst added: "But we have to go on. You can't just say you have good team spirit and let it go at that.

"I think a general statement you could make is we are a hard-working team," offered Vollherbst. "The majority of the players worked hard in the weight room in the off-season and during the summer. I think they're in good shape. We're working them hard."

PHS has just two pre-season tests before the season's opener September 17 against Steinert. The Little Tigers will scrimmage Hamilton on Friday and New Brunswick on September 10.

"I never really liked three scrimmages," explained Vollherbst. "We never had time to work on the first scrimmage mistakes and it was the week when the kids were coming back to school. They were all excited. I don't think they had enough concentration on the middle scrimmage."

Backfield Candidates. This week, TOWN TOPICS will discuss the candidates for the Little Tiger backfield, and next week it will take a look at the linemen.

Vollherbst has had to rebuild at least half of his backfield. Among the nine starters lost to graduation were John Thompson, a good scrambling quarterback, and Darius Young, one of the premier ball carriers in the CVC last fall.

The candidates to take over for Thompson at quarterback include senior Scott McGoldrick, juniors Rob Morris and Dan DiDonato, and sophomore Ryan Branon.

"I feel both Scott and Rob can do the job," said Vollherbst. "Scott is very intelligent and learns very quickly. Rob is a little heavier and has had more experience." McGoldrick played on the PHS jayvee team as a sophomore but did not play at all as a junior. Morris replaced Thompson when he was injured and when he was suspended for a game and a half last year — the latter off a controversial referee's call in the Nottingham game.

DiDonato also did not play last year, while Branon saw some playing time as a freshman. "We're looking for him to improve," said Vollherbst of Branon.

Three are vying for the fullback slot: senior Andy VonMayrhauser, junior Larry Mansier and sophomore Dana Bruce. VonMayrhauser injured his ankle on the second play of the opener last year, reinjured it in the second game and was forced to sit out all but the remaining two games. Mansier is working on his technique and has come a long way, says Vollherbst. He tagged the 5-8, 175-pound Bruce as a "hard-nosed fullback," and he described all three as "hard-working."

Starter Julian Craig is the leading candidate for wingback. The 5-10, 170-pound junior came in when VonMayrhauser was injured and started every game thereafter. "He really developed into a fine player," said Vollherbst.

Todd Marrow, another junior, started on defense last year but also saw some service as a running back. Sophomore Ed McEwen, another member of the McEwen family who have played for the Little Tigers in past years, is up from the freshman team and is, reports Vollherbst, "a solid running back."

Wingback is a key position in the basic offensive formation employed by Vollherbst — a wing slot, one-back offense. "We plan to stay with that," said Vollherbest, "because we feel by using this formation we spread people out and force them to play the entire field."

Senior Anthony Cucchi, a two-way starter last year, heads a list of four candidates for wingback. Not as naturally gifted as some players, Cucchi is such a hard-working player, says Vollherbst, that everything he does he does well.

Junior David Kahn was the team's kicker last year and will remain so this fall, but will definitely see some time as a running back, guarantees Vollherbst. "He has excellent speed and quickness."

Junior Barton Metcalf did not see much action last year and is untested. Kobie Schutz, a BENEFIT POLO MATCH SET: Flan Thompson, left, and Jane Tunnero give Todd Bryan, executive director of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association a tour of the Hillsborough Golf and Country Club where a polo match will be played Saturday, September 17, to benefit the Watershed Assocation.

Topics of the Town

Polo Match Planned As Watershed Benefit

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will hold a benefit polo match Saturday, September 17 at 2 at the Hillsborough Golf and Country Club. The proceeds will help promote the Association's work to preserve farmland in central New Jersey.

According to Watershed Director Todd Bryan, "The Amwell Valley is virtually hidden from Princeton and areas east because of the Sourland Mountains. For that reason few people are aware of the vast amount of untouched land practically in their backyards. Our polo benefit invites people to come celebrate the beauty of this region while helping support the efforts of an organization working to save areas, such as that, from rampant development."

In addition to the actual match, entertainment will include a fox hunting display, pony rides and live Dixieland jazz. Event organizers Jane Tunnero and Flan Thompson have worked hard to create a festival-like atmosphere surrounding the match that both adults and children will enjoy. Tailgate picnicking is encouraged with a special grand prize for the most innovative tailgate display.

Fieldside parking can be reserved for $100 per car, which includes four entry passes. Advanced reservations are necessary for parking, but general admission at $10 per person will be available the day of the event. For more information call 737-3735.

tall, ranging sophomore, started on the freshman team, was injured and did not play the rest of the season. He has, says Vollherbst, "a lot of potential."

PHS Will Throw. Summing up the backfield, Vollherbst said, "We will throw the ball. Both Rob and Scott have good arms; they know where to throw the ball. They're intelligent quarterbacks."

"We're rebuilding the backfield — in Darius and John we lost two outstanding backs — but we feel good about the progress we've made. We feel our running game will be stronger this year. We're working hard on it."

And once more Vollherbst returned to what he feels is the hallmark of this year's squad — the quality of the players. "Our kids will have to go both ways. It's the same story; we don't have the luxury of a larger school.

"But because of the quality of the talent we have, I think we can play a lot more people than we have in the past. I'm pleased to have the kind of kids who will make us competitive."

LET'S TALK ABOUT

LYME DISEASE

with Sam deTuro

Woodwinds Associates

Until recently, Lyme Diseese was a little publicized illness. Named for the Connecticut town where it was first identified, this tick-borne disease is spreading at an alarming rete. The alerming news is that the newest informetion uncovered its potential seriousness.

Lyme disease can involve every major orgen of the body and produce a host of varied symptoms — from crippling arthritis to meningitis.

The culprit that carries Lyne Disease is the deer tick, much smaller and therefore even harder to spot. Its common cousin is the dog tick. The deer tick is misnamed as it will feed on any enimal, including people and pets and is especielly fond of mice.

The one primary cause of its growth has been the encroachment of suburban homesteads on woodlands end other densely vegetated areas.

All homeowners are advised to take several precautions.

1. Avoid heavily wooded areas where possible.
2. Remove unnecessary brush and vegetative growth on your property.
3. Use insect repellents on clothing before working in yerd and gardens.
4. Wear protective clothing; long sleeved shirts, long pants when exposed to tick areas. Tie up and cover long hair.
5. Treat pets and their bedding areas with appropriate products.
6. Treat your lawn and garden areas with a garden insecticide to kill ticks as well as many other damaging insects that can infest your shrubs, trees, flowers.

Interesting Part-Time Position Open at Town Topics

Whether you're new to Princeton, or have lived here many years, here is a part-time job opening (three to four days a week) that will enable you to learn more about this unique town. TOWN TOPICS, Princeton's weekly newspaper, has a position open in its production department that involves a wide variety of duties related to putting a newspaper together.

These include copy editing and typesetting stories for publication, ad mark-up and paste-up, headline and caption writing. We'll teach you how to operate various computers. Of course, previous experience in newspaper work would be helpful, but it's definitely not necessary. The only skill one needs to quality is good typing.

Our salary is competitive with other part-time jobs in this area. We also offer two weeks paid vacation after one year, Christmas bonus, sick days, and participation in an excellent profit-sharing plan, and last, but not least, the congenial atmosphere of a small office.

Bring an informal resume along and come in for an interview and a typing test. Call 924-2200 to set up an appointment.
